Do you have any information on this particular line? This line MIGHT connect to Thomas Bosanko and Mahala Martin, but I really can't say for sure, do you know if it does? I have not researched this family at all. After getting an angry phone call from Louise Braubach, I got really wary. I know I can find out about this on my own, but wanted to see if you have any records on this family at all before I go "high hog" on this one and research it out. :) - Linda

News and Thanks News and Thanks News and Thanks News and Thanks News and Thanks

- ☺ Thanks to Andrew K. and family for providing snacks this week!
- ☺ Thanks to Matt H. for bringing morning music on Friday.
- ☺ We have been working so hard this week to get our books finished before the break. Students have been meeting with each other and with teachers reading, revising, and editing their stories. Some have begun illustrations. All the support that authors/artists have been receiving at home is wonderful!!! Feel free to listen to stories, help type, offer praise.
- ☺ Our Sports and Fitness unit will be postponed until after break so that we can devote most of our time to our books.
- ☺ Remember to mark your calendar for next Thursday's Winter Sing at the State Historical Society auditorium at 7:00. Students in 200 will be presenting a medley of music from our native people unit.

Sharing At Home Sharing At Home Sharing At Home Sharing At Home Sharing At Home

- ☺ We have practiced our editing skills each day with morning activity. See if people at home can edit the captions on this page. Do you agree with their changes?
- ☺ Share your second draft of your story with the folks at home. What did you learn from your meetings with a classmate and a teacher? Describe some of your ideas for illustrations.
- ☺ What did you and your partner do in BRIDGES this week?
- ☺ Today we had our all-school First Friday Sharing. What was shared by your schoolmates and teachers?

Leaving his family in England he came to the United States 38 years ago, and for the past 36 years had been an employe of the Homestake Mining company in the mechanical department. Mrs. Bosanko and their family joined him in Lead in 1910, and since their coming the family has lived in Terraville.

He is survived by his wife, two daughters, Mrs. R. L. Schooley of Gresham, Ore.; Mrs. Orlo A. Carl-been lost en route by plane to the Southeast Asia command.

Missing with him is Lady Leigh-Mallory, who was traveling with her husband in a special plane.

The plane has not reached its destination, the air ministry announcement said tonight. The craft had flown to the Mediterranean area and after dismissing its escort, continued alone. It was flown by an RAF veteran crew picked personally by the air marshal to accompany him to his new command and work with him there.

son, Washington, D. C., and a son, Harry, at home; a sister, Edith Bosanko, Lead; two cousins, Mrs. E. J. Dingle, Lead and Mrs. Sam Moyle, Butte, Mont., and relatives living in England.

Subject: Katharine Mahala Bosanko (Helen Thornton Simpson)

Hi Fayth,

I have moved to Utah, and yesterday....someone found me on facebook and asked me to start researching again.

You're right, and I had been sick for sooooo long, and had my second brain surgery last October 17th (1 year ago), so I'm doing a little better.

I'll gather that information for you, but I do know that Thomas Bosanko was a little bit of a gambler but mostly a drinker and finally owned a saloon in Grass Valley. My grandfather, Percy, knew him, but the staunch methodists would not "acknowledge" him as a Cousin Jack (term for a cornishman). Thomas came from Cornwall, through the canadian timbertrade ships, and down into Michigan, then over through Butte, Montana, then down through Utah on his way to California. His wife, Mary Dunn Bosanko committed suicide and was buried in the Mt. Moriah cemetery in Butte Montana, although Bill had told me for years it was in Lead, South Dakota, because he was embarassed about the suicide. A few years before Bill's death (that's brother to Katharine, who is actually died with the name Helen), he told me about the suicide. I told him it was ok, and that I knew he had lied to me (more like fibbed), becuase he was preserving the memory of his sweet mother. After her suicide, the Dad (Thomas) packed up all the kids and started heading south to find work. His older boys had been trained in Mining (just like the Dad), and he dumped them off in the Kennecott Copper Mines and I actually found one of the sons buried in a cemetery near my house! His grave is unmarked, but it's totally him, and the dates match. He died in a mining accident. Thomas left the other kids here too, including little Katharine, who was then adopted by a Mormon Family. Family stories say that Thomas saw that the Mormons had lots of kids, so he dumped them off on his neighbors who took the kids in, and then the Dad moved to Grass Valley in the height of the gold rush, and he started a saloon, where he met up with my granddad, and his father. They were always quick to say that Thomas was not a member of the family (which actually he was a second cousin I beleive). Anyway, Helen died alone, and only saw her other sisters a few times. I have her photos.&nbs p; She claimed to her neighbors in the trailer park where she lived alone that she never had children, never had FAMILY either, which was not true. She felt abandoned by them all. I search for her for 5 years, but unfortunately, unbeknownst to me, she died after 2 years of my search, and I found her 3 years later. I found her death certificate, and I contacted the informant on the document, who happened to be her neighbor. The neighbor had a few young daughters, and Helen befriended them and they all became very close. After her death, the neighbor got a small box of her effects, which she passed to me, and they are filed in my documents. I'm glad you found me again....

The Rolling Mill mine, which Captain Samuel Mitchell purchased something like a year or more ago, will be wrought during the coming summer. Mr. Mitchell is now arranging to put a few men to work down there. The force will not be large to begin with, but it is possible that quite a number of men may be given places there before the season is very far advanced, that depending, however, on the demand for the ore mined there. Last season quite a good start was made at the property and everything was put in shape for a fairly large output in case that should be found advisable this season. The Rolling Mill has been idle for many years. It was one of the several properties opened up here a number of years ago and subsequently abandoned on account of the slack demand for the ore produced.

The Jackson company has not yet decided to resume operations at the new open pit mine, which has been idle since early in the winter. There is quite a large pile of ore in stock there and it is likely that nothing in the way of mining will be done until there is prospect of getting rid of the product to good advantage. With the open pit mine in operation there would be quite a number of men added to the list of the employed in the city.

The residents of Negaunee are anxiously waiting for something to turn up at the Queen mine, which has been idle since last fall. It seems that the deal between the company and Carnegie is still pending, but terms cannot be settled on between the prospective purchasers and the free owners. If there is anything to be done down there this season it is about time the operators were getting to work. In case a start should be made it would take some time to organize the forces and get things in shape for active mining.

The steam shovel at the Cambria mine was started Monday. The ore being loaded will be shipped to Marquette. The Cambria and Little companies have been shipping from the pockets for nearly five weeks past.

PLANT TO BE OVERHAULED.

It Will Be Put in Complete Repair Within Two or Three Months.

The Negaunee city water works plant will be thoroughly overhauled, and put in as good condition as the first day it was used, within the next two or three months.

Superintendent John Wasmuth informs The Mining Journal that the Lake Shore Iron works of Marquette will do the work. A new set of plungers will be put in and any other parts that are in bad order will be replaced by new ones. In fact, every part of the pumping plant, including the boilers, will be thoroughly overhauled.

It is now about eight years since any work has been done on the plant and the machinery is in need of some attention, though it is in fairly good condition considering the long time it has been used without repairs. The plant has been in use since 1882 and since then very little has been expended in the way of improvements or repairs. There have been no serious breakdowns at the station, and very little expense for repairs has been entailed on the city.

It is likely that the improvements will not be started until after the first of the coming month, when the superintendent will have the street work off his hands and will be able to give the work at the engine house nearly his entire attention. Mr. Wasmuth will be on hand while the overhauling is being done, so that he will be certain that it is properly done.

It is the wish of the superintendent that a new hardwood floor be put in the engine room after the plant is put in shape, also that the interior of the building be brightened up with fresh paint, etc. In view of the important changes to be made about the machinery it is likely the council will decide to fix up the building in accordance with his suggestions.

The cost of the proposed improvements cannot be ascertained at present as there may be more work to do than now figured on.

DEATH OF M. J. ARLAND.

He Breathed His Last at His Home Here Tuesday Morning.

Michael J. Arland passed away Tuesday morning at an early hour at his home on Main street.

It was evident for several days before death came that Mr. Arland could not recover. He was given the best of medical attendance but the disease had taken such a hold on him that it was incurable. He had been a sufferer for the past three years, though very few of his friends here knew that he was afflicted with Bright's disease, as he never complained, nor did he give up attending to his business until about a month ago.

Expressions of regret because of his death could be heard on every hand. Mike was a good fellow and had a great many friends here. He was tender-hearted and lovable in every way.

There was not a more thorough business man in the upper peninsula than he. This was shown by the success he made of his business here. Some eight years or so ago he bought out Morse Bros.' dry goods business, starting in with a very limited capital. His trade grew rapidly and his stock increased until he had one of the largest to be found in the county.

Mr. Arland was thirty-three years of age. He was born at Hancock, coming to this city with his parents when but a small boy.

The funeral was held Thursday morning at 9 o'clock from St. Paul's church under auspices of the local court of the Catholic Order of Foresters, of which the deceased was a charter member. At the time of his death he was treasurer of the society. The funeral was largely attended. In fact every vehicle in the city and many from Ishpeming were brought into service by the friends of the deceased who turned out to the funeral. All of the business people who could possibly get out were present, as all the merchants here held the young man in high esteem. The obsequies were held under the direction of the local court of the Catholic Order of Foresters, which was represented by a large turnout. Some

GET EARLY START AT ANCHO MINE

Frank Mainhart Leaves to Re-open Property in Graniteville Country.

Frank Mainhart took his departure yesterday for the Ancho mine, near Graniteville, which is owned by his father, George Mainhart of this city. While the road leading into the mine is still blocked, the snow in the immediate vicinity of the property has melted away sufficiently to permit the resuming of operations. Considerable preliminary work will have to be done, however, before mining development gets underway.

Splendid progress was made at the Ancho last season, but even better results are looked forward to this year. Work will be underway earlier this year unless trouble is experienced in getting lumber from the mill which is located in a snow-bound country.

Mr. Mainhart will be in charge of operations. His father, however, expects to leave for the property in a short time and will spend considerable time there.

DIXIE MINSTRELS ARE COMING SOON

World's Greatest Blind Musicians Will Appear With Company in This City.

A keen interest is felt in local circles over the coming of The Dandy Dixie Minstrels, which will appear in the Auditorium on Wednesday, April 21st in a combination of advanced minstrelsy, musical comedy and grand opera presenting novel features, such as Johnson and Mackey, the world's two greatest blind musicians and singers who play every instrument known to the musical world, and they play them all alike, as they all look alike, to these two blind boys. Pope and Dallas in their celebrated tight wire walking and comedy act score several encores in their thrilling and daring feats, which are interspersed with singing and dancing.

A sprig of green and a bright-colored blossom in a small vase in the center of the dining table will add greatly to the cheeriness of the hour spent together during the meal.

CHILDREN SHOCKED FIND MOTHER DYING

MRS. THOMAS BOSANKO OF CENTERVILLE SWALLOWS DOSE OF CARBOLIC ACID.

SUFFERING FROM ILLNESS
TOO INTENSE TO ENDURE

Crazed as a result of seven months of continued illness, Mrs. Thomas Bosanko of 207 Missoula avenue, in Centerville, swallowed two ounces of carbolic acid at 10 o'clock last night, dying an hour later. Drs. P. H. McCarthy and J. T. Wolf were called, but efforts to ward off the inevitable were futile. Mrs. Bosanko was the mother of six children, all living in Butte.

The body was taken in charge by Undertaker Richards, at whose place Coroner Stevens will hold an inquest tomorrow evening at 7 o'clock.

Less than a minute after Mrs. Bosanko had swallowed the fatal potion one of her grown-up daughters, who lives in the neighborhood, entered the house and, detecting the odor of the poison, exclaimed:

"Mother, what have you taken?"

"I couldn't help it," the mother groaned, as she drew the bedclothes up to her chin.

"Spit it out," the young woman screamed, almost driven frantic.

"I can't; it's gone, and I'm not sorry. I wish I had died seven months ago. I'm no good any more," and Mrs. Bosanko sank, apparently without pain, into unconsciousness, from which she never roused.

Her Children Away.

Mrs. Bosanko's youngest daughter is but 5 years of age, but she was not at home during the evening, nor were any of her other children. The mother went downtown with a neighbor early in the evening. They separated on Main street and Mrs. Bosanko went directly to a drug store, where she purchased the acid. Returning home, she prepared to retire and, pouring the contents of the vial into a cup, swallowed the poison at a draft. Such were the findings of the family.

All its members are overcome with grief and are at a loss to explain the mother's rash act, unless she was mentally unbalanced as a result of her suffering. She is survived by three daughters, two of whom are married, and three sons. Mrs. Bosanko was about 50 years of age. Announcement of the funeral will be made later.

DEATHS AND FUNERALS.

Macdonald—Fred Macdonald, aged 81 years, died last evening at the family residence, 12 East Gold street. No arrangements will be made for the funeral until relatives are heard from.

Bosanko—The funeral of Mrs. Thomas Bosanko, aged 33 years, will take place tomorrow at 2:00 p. m. from the family residence, 207 Missoula avenue. Services will be held at the Mountain View M. E. church by Rev. A. P. Morrison.

We only show Mary Jane and William John, previously identified as his children, no others that we have entered into our system. We have other information, not reviewed, that may bear on this, but we haven't got to it. My wife thinks that your William John is the right one in my family, and that the other children we did not know about are indeed close relatives. Thank you.

After his wife died, in 1908, Thos. H. took the following of his children to American Fork, Utah and dropped them off, farming them out to different families, after which he went on to California. After his death, the probate document lists his children, together with their residences.
This may be of some interest too. I will copy and send.
Hope to get this and other papers off Tuesday, but this is one busy week.

William James' death certificate lists his son as

The judge stated that it was his intention to clear up the work in his department as much as possible, so that a lot of it would not be piled up for his successor. A calendar for the fall term with about 100 district and 30 appeal cases at issue for trial in Judge Bourquin's court will soon be ready for distribution. Juries will also probably be called by Judges Lynch and Donlan in a few weeks, so that October promises to be a busy month in district court circles in Butte.

FINAL PAYMENT IS MADE ON BALTIMORE PROPERTY

Company Is Considering Plans for Extensive Development Work.

Final payment has been made by the Baltimore Copper Mining company to the Mackey heirs for the Baltimore property, located two and one-half miles north of Boulder. Twenty-five thousand dollars is said to have been the price paid for the property. For some time it has been under bond and lease and persistent development has greatly enhanced its value.

During the period of operation last year about 30 carloads of ore were shipped. Work was discontinued, however, when the smelters closed down a year ago, and since that time very little development work has been done. Plans are now under consideration by the company for development of the property on an extensive scale.

The property has been partially developed by means of five tunnels, aggregating 1,800 feet in length, and there is one shaft from which a cross-cut has been run intersecting the main vein. The ore carries good values in silver, copper and lead. A considerable tonnage is said to be in sight.

SISTER EMILDA'S FUNERAL.

Sisters of Charity from many of the larger cities in Montana are gathering in Butte to attend the funeral of Sister Emilda, which will be held this morning at 9 o'clock from St. Patrick's church. Sister Emilda died Saturday afternoon. For the past 10 years she has been connected with the St. James' hospital in Butte and for some time past has been sister superior.

RICH COPPER STRIKE IN VICINITY OF WOLF CREEK

Encountered While Sinking Shaft
for Air on an Old Ledge.

According to reports received from Wolf Creek, about 40 miles east of Helena on the Great Northern railroad, the Wolf Creek Mining company, a Spokane corporation, is developing a promising property. In the shaft, which is sunk on the ledge at a point several hundred feet from the place where the was first encountered, four feet of clean shipping ore, averaging about 30 per cent copper, has been opened up, according to reports, and as the shaft attains depth the ore body is said to be increasing in width. Old miners, who have been working in that section for years, pronounce the strike the most important that has ever been made in the district.

The company is now running a long tunnel designed to tap the ledge at a depth of about 200 feet at a point under a 40-foot shaft where rich copper ore was discovered several months ago. The tunnel is now in about 250 feet and the shaft where the last discovery was made is past the apex of the mountain from the mouth of the tunnel and was started to be sunk to the floor of the tunnel when the point under the shaft shall have been reached. The primary object of the shaft was to provide air circulation. There is reason to believe that the ore shoot extends the entire distance between the two shafts, a distance of several hundred feet.

DESPONDENCY CAUSE OF MRS. BASANKO'S SUICIDE

Her Mind Till She Took Her Own Life.

Despondency, due to continued ill health, is attributed by the coroner's jury as the cause of the suicide of Mrs. T. H. Basanko, who swallowed the contents of a two-ounce bottle of carbolic acid at her home at 207 Missoula avenue Saturday night.

The inquest was held last night at Richards' undertaking parlors. For the greater part the witnesses were relatives of the deceased.

T. H. Basanko, the husband of the deceased, testified that Mrs. Basanko had been in ill health for several months, but he had never heard her threaten to take her life. George Boyd and Mike Laughorn, both sons-in-law, made practically the same statements. Mary Ann Angove, a neighbor, called in by Mrs. Basanko's little girl, testified to finding the body on the bed, with the empty acid bottle beside it. Mrs. Frederick Cole told of coming up town with Mrs. Basanko Saturday, and said that the deceased appeared to be in good spirits. She did not return home with Mrs. Basanko, nor did she see her purchase the bottle of acid.

Funeral services will be held at the Mountain View Methodist church this afternoon at 2:00 o'clock. Rev. A. P. Morrison will officiate. Interment will be made in the Mt. Moriah cemetery.

Subject: Photo: Daughters of Thomas Henry Bosanko

This photo sent to me by Linda many years ago when I first contacted her about the Bosanko families of Grass Valley.

"Bosanko Sisters: Mary Jane Bosanko
 Edith Elizabeth Bosanko
 Katherine Mahala Bosanko (center) "

We now know that Mary Jane is the person on the right, and that Edit E. is the person on the left.

Compare the photo I recently sent of the wedding of George Boyd and Mary Jane.

We have many other pics of Mary Jane, and her appearance is pretty consistent in all of them. (She showed some swelling of the ankles in every single picture we have seen.)

this scan I just did with better equipment (and knowledge) than was available to me earlier. So, if interested, this is a keep.

If anyone wants an original, in a larger scale, let me know.

Anyone want to date this photo?? How 'bout the mid 1920's?? (Hair styles, clothing)

I am told that someone is sure that Edith is in the middle, but that the outer girls are a guess. My wife says that Mary Jane, the oldest, appears to be the person on the right.

Your family descends from John & Susanna (SEMS) BOSANKO
They had a son named Thomas who married Mahala Martin abt 1850.
Thomas & Mahala's son Thomas Henry married Mary Ann Dunn.
If you go to my web page you will find some of your family.
I have more but just came across this connection.

Fayth,

I would love to get more information on Edith's siblings and the Bosanko side. It would also be tremendous to be able to get the photo if possible.

From the information dug up over the last couple of days, this is the first my cousin (once removed), Clyde Comfort Jr., has learned of even the names of his grandparents Edith and Zack.

I am afraid the sad story continues down that side of the family, although in a different vane. Clyde was raised by my grandparents because his parents separated or divorced when he was a year old and neither one of them were equipped to raise him. Both Clyde Comfort Sr. and Grace Lahorne seemed to be rebel-rousers. My great-uncle Clyde Sr. had many occupations including con-man and bootlegger during prohibition in San Francisco. He would be missing from his son's sight for many years at a time. His mother, who he only saw once on a visit she made to my grandparents place, died in an auto accident in 1938 when Clyde Jr. was only 7. It seems to me that Grace's mother also died young, as I cannot find a trace of her after the 1920 census (I did find that entry). It looks like the two kids, Grace and Gordon, went off to wild San Francisco.

Was it "Mike Lawton" mentioned in the newspaper article? If so, where did the name "Zach" come from? I'd like to see if I can find that family, so any clues would be useful.

One interesting bit... I found this in the California Death Records:

SIMPSON, HELEN THORTON, b. 12/10/1903, mthrs maiden DUNN, fthrs last BOSANKO, F,
 b. MICHIGAN, d. SACRAMENTO 04/03/1981, ssn 548-28-2637, 77 yrs, last res 95815

What are the chances that Katherine Mahala Bosanko, has the the exact birth date and place, death date (off by 5 days) and place and the exact same maiden name and mother's maiden name? What do you think?

Below is some information I've gathered for Edith and Zack and descendants. If you'd like it in another format (gedcom, etc) let me know.

Thanks for your help.

Steve

If you go to Ancestry.com

In the 1920 census, state of Washington, County of King, Seattle

Ed 117, Image 20 of 31. Edith Lahann is how it is listed in the search area for Washington State. Although when you look at the writing from the census it looks more like La Horne.

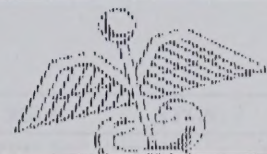

She is the 1st household on this page. Her brother Howard & sister Mary (Bosanko) Boyd are also living with her. Edith is listed as a widow. This family has a rather sad history as their mother committed suicide when the youngest child was just 5 years old. Sounds like the children are pretty much on their own or farmed out to a family that would take them.

Zach Lawton is mentioned in the newspaper dated 15 Sep 1908 as her son in law. He is listed as Mike Lawton. I have a picture that was e-mailed to me by another descendant of this family that is of the 3 sisters, Mary, Edith & Katherine.

I have more information on the siblings of Edith & the Bosanko side if you are interested.

Fayth,

I'm not sure what's happening with the emails. I'll start a new email (for the third time!) instead of "replying" to your last.

Thank you for sending the picture. It is a shame that it is of low quality as it is hard to see the faces. It is something though and I thank you.

I finally found the Lawhorn/Bosanko family in the 1910 census! Add "John D. Lawhorn" to the list of names this guy was known as! This seems to show another daughter who may have died in infancy. Since Grace Adelaide/Adeline was born a year later in Bingham, Utah, the location is not a surprise.

The information on this Web site should not take the place of talking with your doctor or health care professional to manage and treat your asthma. If you have any questions about your condition, or if you want to learn more about SYMBICORT or asthma, talk to your doctor or pharmacist. Only you and your doctor can decide what is best for you.

IMPORTANT SAFETY INFORMATION

What is SYMBICORT?

Prescription SYMBICORT® (budesonide/formoterol fumarate dihydrate) Inhalation Aerosol is a controller medicine for the long-term maintenance treatment of asthma. SYMBICORT is for people 12 years and older whose doctor has decided are not well controlled on another asthma-controller medicine or who need two asthma-controller medicines. SYMBICORT is not for the treatment of sudden asthma symptoms.

What is the most important safety information I should know about SYMBICORT?

SYMBICORT contains formoterol, a long-acting beta₂-agonist (LABA). Medicines containing LABAs may increase the chance of asthma-related death. So, SYMBICORT should be used only if your health care professional decides another asthma-controller medicine alone does not control your asthma or you need two controller medicines.

While taking SYMBICORT, never use another medicine containing a LABA.

What other important information should I know about SYMBICORT?

SYMBICORT won't replace your rescue inhaler. Do not use SYMBICORT to treat sudden asthma symptoms.

If you are taking SYMBICORT, tell your health care professional if you are taking any other medicines.

Some people may experience an increase in heart rate, or change in blood pressure, or have a heart condition. Tell your health care professional if you have any of these conditions.

If you are switching to SYMBICORT from another corticosteroid, follow your health care professional's instructions about health risks when you start SYMBICORT.

Avoid exposure to infectious diseases such as measles. Tell your health care professional if you are exposed.

In clinical studies, common side effects of SYMBICORT include throat irritation, headache, sore throat, sinusitis, and

To make smooth the path of the borrowers, the legal authorities of Salt Lake county, Utah, are making war on loan sharks.

Hearings on the House free sugar bill have begun before the Senate committee on finance. They are expected to continue a fortnight.

The Interstate Commerce Commission has refused to grant the proposed advance on lemons from California points to Colorado, Montana and Utah.

Columbia university of New York will send a large squad of students to the wheat fields of Kansas, Nebraska, Montana and the Dakotas this summer to work as farm hands and laborers.

Perfecting its plans for intervention in Mexico, the war department at Washington is receiving hourly details as to the militia strength and condition from adjutant generals of militia from the states.

In a case of vital interest to irrigation farmers of the West, the Supreme Court held that land owners along a river had no right to object to a change in the river's current by riparian owners below them.

The Postoffice Department announces that January 31, 1912, there were seventy-seven postal savings depositories in operation in Colorado, with deposits amounting to over $495,000. This amount was deposited by about 4,600 depositors, or an average of $108 per depositor.

Western Newspaper Union News Service.

Indianapolis.—No anthracite or bituminous coal will be taken from the mines by union miners as a result of the suspension which went into effect at midnight Sunday night, due to wage troubles.

More than 400,000 miners, about 150,000 in the anthracite field and 250,000 in the bituminous, will take a vacation, which probably will last only a few weeks. Different from a strike, the miners will leave pumpmen and others at work to protect the mines from flooding or other trouble due to a shutdown of the plants.

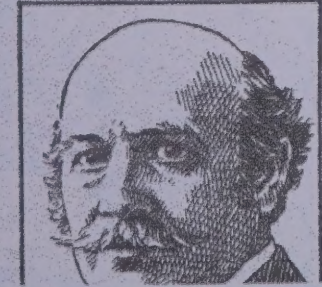

The bituminous miners will be out only long enough for the wage agreement reached in Cleveland to be ratified by the miners by a referendum vote and it is believed the agreement will be sanctioned by a large majority of the men.

The suspension in the anthracite mines will last longer as no agreement has yet been reached. Negotiations will be resumed April 10th.

Ballots for the referendum vote by the bituminous miners, it is said, will be sent out from the national miners' headquarters here. It will take more than two weeks to take the vote. As it will require some time to canvass the vote, the bituminous miners are not expected to resume work much under a month.

Senator Lorimer of Illinois won an overwhelming vindication at the hands of the special committee of eight senators who have finished a second investigation of his election by the Illinois Legislature in 1909. The committee by votes of 5 to 3 on all vital points completely exonerated him of any knowledge of legislative corruption.

A series of rumors concerning the Mexican situation, covering every possible phase of activity on the part of the American government, from actual intervention and assemblage of great military forces on the border, down to the dispatch of an embassy guard to the Mexican capital is swirling through official Washington. President Taft believes there is no ground for intervention in Mexico and has not changed that belief as the result of the military engagements in Mexico within the last few days. Consequently no steps have been taken within that time to strengthen the American military force on the border, nor to prepare any expeditionary force for operation in Mexican territory. The supposition that anything of importance could be done in that direction without some knowledge on the part of the country at large and a direct appeal to Congress is declared by the military authorities to be absurd.

Well, that's the end of the 25 documents, for the first batch. I don't need to send a number 8, because I was able to send 4 files at a time, rather than the three, that I thought I had to. That saved me time. I better hop off to bed, it's midnight, and I will turn into a pumpkin.

I hope you enjoy what I've sent so far. Helen is by far, the most fascinating of them all. I think I might be able to only handle one man in my life. I guess she had a lot of love to give, and I admire that greatly. She seemed to really persevere with tremendous strength.

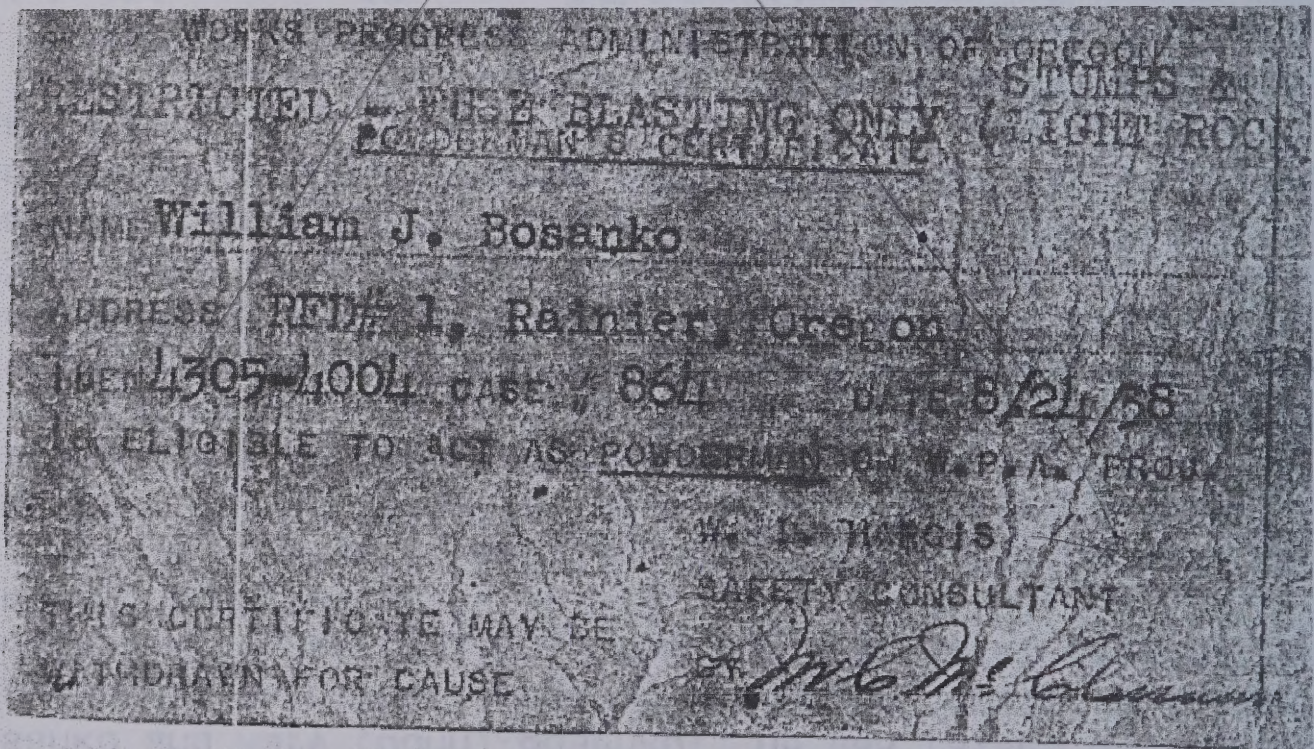

If this works for you, after I receive your first payment, I'll start on Child # 7 KATHARINE MAHALA BOSANKO who died as HELEN THORNTON SIMPSON. I probably have the same amount of documents for her, so let me know when you're ready.

Warmest Regards,

arraigned Mr. Bosanko, what is your plea, guilty or not guilty?

THE DEFENDANT: Guilty.

THE COURT: Let the record show that the defendant enters a plea of guilty. What time shall we set for the imposition of sentence. Shall we set it for 1:30 this afternoon.

MR. MCDONALD: Yes.

MR. CLUFF: That is satisfactory.

THE COURT: Time for sentence then is set and fixed for this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock.

1:30 p. m.

Defendant present in court.

THE COURT: Let the record show that the defendant is present in court, that Brother McDonald is present representing the State, and that Brother Cluff is present representing the defendant. This is the time set and fixed for sentence in this matter. Mr. Bosanko you may stand up. You have been informed against, Mr. Bosanko, by the District Attorney of this District, and the information charges that you are guilty of carnal knowledge of a female over the age of thirteen years and under the age of eighteen years. You have been arraigned and entered a plea of guilty to the charge contained in the information. This is the time set by the court for the imposition of sentence upon you. Have you any legal reason to offer at this time why the court should not impose sentence upon you?

THE DEFENDANT: How is that.

THE COURT: Have you any legal reason to offer now why you should not be sentenced. Brother Cluff may speak for you?

MR. CLUFF: I think if the court please there is no reason to offer now. I understand the District Attorney intends to make a statement and recommendation to the court and from the counsel we have had in regard to this statement, I think the recommendation will perhaps cover the entire situation.

THE COURT: Brother McDonald you may make a statement.

MR. McDONALD: If the Court please, in this case the defendant is eighteen years old, has become eighteen last August, and Katherine Johnson, the child or girl named in the complaint is his sister. She appears by the name of Johnson because she was adopted by a family of Johnsons in Springville. It seems that the father and mother of the defendant and this girl are dead and have been for a number of years and during last summer the two children became familiar with each other from which intercourse occurred a number of times.

There are a good many details connected with the entire transaction and other parties are now under arrest charged with the same offense with this girl, and the sheriff and myself have been somewhat at a loss to know just what would be best under the circumstances. We got Mr. Cluff to assist in the matter in order that he might fairly and impartially represent the interests of the defendant and offer any suggestions that he might have to offer.

We are satisfied from our investigations that the authorities at the reform school, or school of correction which is owned by the state would not keep the defendant. It is true that he is over eighteen years of age, but he was under eighteen at the time this offense is alleged to have been committed, and the law at that time of course would govern, and upon an order of this court they would be required to accept the defendant into that school, but under their rules and the law, they would not have to keep him, and from the experience we have had and investigations we have made in this case, we are satisfied that the authorities of that institution would not keep the defendant.

For his own good and the good of society, we decided that it would not be best for the defendant--we counseled with him about it--to turn him loose, then the question of how long he should serve came up, and after counselling together we decided that it might be well for us to recommend to the State Board of Control that the defendant be confined for a period of four months, and then discharged or paroled so that if his conduct should not be proper at any time in the future, that he could be taken back to the institution.

I therefore, under the circumstances in the case, recommend to the court that any information that should be given to the State Board of Control by way of recommendation should be a period of four months and then a parol. Our purpose of course in this is to try to bring about a reformation and make a useful citizen out of the defendant, and we have decided that if that period of imprisonment will not bring about the desired result that a greater period would notnot, and if for any reason it should be necessary to return him, he can either be returned under this same proceeding, or another proceeding can be filed against him, if he should see fit to rebel and not conform to the laws of society.

THE COURT: Mr. Bosanko, you knew it was your sister you were having intercourse with, did you?

THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

THE COURT: We think that this is a case that is a little out of the ordinary, even in a case of this kind. It would appear from the statement made that really the defendant is guilty of incest as well as the charge contained in the information. I cannot quite understand how any boy who has his wits about him would have so little respect for his sister as to commit a crime like that against her.

Let the record show that the defendant being present in court and ready for sentence, therefore the court renders its judgment as follows; that whereas said defendant William Bosanko having been duly convicted in this court of the crime of carnal knowledge of a female over the age of thirteen years and under the age of eighteen years by entering a plea of guilty, it is now therefore ordered, adjudged and decreed that said William Bosanko be imprisoned in the State Prison of the State of Utah at the County of Salt Lake for a term of not ^{less} ~~more~~ than one year nor more than five years, and you said William Bosanko are now rendered into the custody of the Sheriff of Utah County, Utah, to be by him delivered into the custody of the warden or other proper officer of said state prison.

LAWYER
PROVO, : UTAH

June 8, 1918.

Hon. State Board of Pardons,
Salt Lake, Utah,

Dear Sir:

In the matter of the application of William J. Bosanko for parole, you are advised that this boy is about 19 years of age. His mother and father died some years ago, leaving this boy together with a girl who is now over thirteen years of age. The girl was adopted by a family by the name of Johnson in Springville and from her and others we learned that a married man by the name of Marshal during the spring of 1917, had intercourse with her. This man continued to have sexual intercourses with the child girl until last fall when the girl's married sister and this man Marshal planned the way and got this little girl into a rooming house at Salt Lake, where he stayed with her all night and the married sister stayed at a hotel. The people with whom the little girl was staying at the time assumed that all was not right with the child and began to make inquiry relative to her conduct, whereupon she told the whole story and among other things said that she had had intercourse with her brother William; he was at once arrested and without hesitation told the whole story and he implicated others with the girl.

He said that he had had intercourse with her on different occasions last summer, explaining the time when and the place where. Upon being arraigned he entered a plea of guilty to the charge of carnal knowledge.

This boy is not too bright and it would no doubt be well to payrole him or grant a pardon. With this statement the board will be in a position to do that which will be best.

Very truly yours

J. H. McDonald

Gentlemen:-

I respectfully submit my supplication on behalf of Mr. J. Bosanko, a petitioner for mercy at your hands.

I have been employed by the State the last five months at Road Camp ¹² and have had occasion to make a close study of the above named lad.

The boy has been in the camp nine months giving entire satisfaction regarding his work and general behavior.

I have broken him in as fireman on the steam shovel until he is now competent to step into a similar position on the outside, further I am willing to take him to California when I leave in November, and to assist him to secure a position upon arrival there.

Gentlemen, I beg of you, mercy for this lad, that you will grant his petition, and I shall certainly do my part in looking after his future welfare.

Again asking clemency for the lad, I remain Gentlemen

he is competent to step into such a position on the outside the fact is Mr Storrs the boy never has had a chance simply allowed to drift and affected mentally from an injury to his head at the early age of 10 years in a runaway accident in Butte, Montana, 1909.

I have endeavored to get in touch with the physician who was in attendance on him at that time a Dr. Wolf, but as yet have not been successful; on the boy's head can be seen the scar running from the right jaw bone half way to the crown of his head where the wheel of the wagon had passed over, so at the time of committing the crime he is accused of I honestly do not believe he was mentally responsible for his actions.

50th Wedding

William and Elza Bosanko Celebrate Golden Wedding Anniversary

by Ruth Pfefferle

It is said that all marriages begin with romance — a touch, a smile, a moment when eyes meet for an instant, or a love letter. Sometimes childhood sweet hearts marry and there is that moment of realization, cherished a lifetime.

William and Elza Bosanko have cherished that romantic moment for 50 years. They were married in Chehalis, Wash. June 20, 1924. Two of their children were born in Washington before the family moved to Rainier, Ore. where three more children were born. Their children are Loretta Knopski, Althea Chadwell, Robert Bosanko, William Bosanko, and Bea Chadwell. They have 18 grandchildren and 8 great grandchildren.

William (Bill) worked in the lumbering industry and for the Forest Service most of his working years, and retired in 1963 when they moved to Kerby. The Bosankos have been active although retired and always ready to help a neighbor. Bill is past president of Simpson Recreation, Del Norte Rockhound Club, and Illinois Valley Mineral and Hobbies Club. Both are still active in the I V Mineral Club.

The children of William and Elza Bosanko held a reception in honor of their parent's 50th wedding anniversary. A few days before the date the couple began to hear just enough to know that something was being planned for them, but no one would tell them any details. Family members began arriving on the 19th and were busy coming and going. The Golden Anniversary dawned and more relatives came and they were busy too—still no details of the plans were given. Late afternoon and some of the family gathered at the Bosanko home for a dinner together.

ILLINOIS VALLEY NEWS
Cave Junction, Oregon 97523

At the proper time the Bosanko's children took their parents to the beautifully decorated social hall of the Community Bible Church they have been members of since 1965. They were welcomed by the Rev. and Mrs. Sherman Lackey and many friends and relatives, including 4 grandchildren and 2 great grandchildren.

When the guests were seated, the bride and groom of 50 years ago walked down the aisle together, with their son Robert as best man and daughter Bea as bridesmaid, stood before the Rev. Lackey and repeated after him the marriage ceremony, renewing the vows made so many years ago. It was a double ring ceremony, which was a surprise. (Before leaving home Elza had taken her wedding ring off and tucked it securely in Bill's pocket to be sure he would have it if they

a new gold ring Bill slipped Elza's finger and a wide gold band was handed to her to put on Bill's finger, gifts of their children.

The three tiered cake and the two sheet cakes were also gifts of their children to help their parents celebrate this happy occasion. The bride and groom eat their cake in the traditional manner and guests were served cake and punch. Patricia and Sandra Bosanko, granddaughters, registered the guests in the wedding book.

There were three money trees two from Nevada. One was decorated with 50 silver dollars and the other with fifty cent pieces. The third tree had paper money hanging from every twig and many cards contained paper bills also. The Golden Weds opened many lovely gifts.

Relatives attending the celebration were Bill's youngest brother Howard Bosanko Sr. whom had not seen for many years, and his son Lt. Col. Howard Bosanko Wash. State Guard, Seattle; Bernice Ewing, Ridgefield, Wash. Loretta Knopski, Buxton, Oregon Althea and Bill Bosanko and children, Bea Chadwell, Crescent City, Cal.

Out of town guests were Mr and Mrs Paul Horn, Mr and Mrs Larry Wooten, Mrs June Stewart and Jim, Crescent City, and David Cuppell, Sacramento.

Bosankos celebrate 60th wedding anniversary

by Ruth Pfefferle

Bill and Elza Bosanko, Kerby, remember the first days of their acquaintance. After Eliza Ernestine Hand had met Bill Bosanko several times she asked her mother, Eva Eliza Hand, if she could invite Bill over for supper. Eliza and her mother were gone for the afternoon. Bill was supposed to come and when they returned he was already there and had become acquainted with all of the family. Elza started to introduce the young man and her mother said, "I know Bill better than you do. We work at the same place and he is the one who is always there when someone needs help."

Bill and Elza were married in Chehalis, Wash. June 20, 1924. Her sister Berniece attended their wedding and was present when they celebrated their golden wedding and also attended their 60th wedding reception.

Their children, Bob and Irene Bosanko, Loretta Knopski, Beatrice Chadwell, and Bill and Althea Chadwell, gave their parents a reception to celebrate their 60th anniversary. Their eldest son Bill Bosanko is in the U.S. military in Korea and could not get a leave.

Ridgefield, Wash.; Battle Mountain, Nev.; Buxton and Crescent City, Cal.

There was concern when part of the family did not arrive in time. Terry and Marty Chadwell and their two daughters Patricia and Michelle started from Battle Mountain, Nev. and had car trouble but they made it to their grandparents' home on Holton Creek while some of their relatives were still here. Terry is the son of Althea Chadwell and grandson of the Bosankos.

Evelyn Grimsgaard brought 12 Queen Elizabeth roses, a gift for Bill and Elza, and Don and Linda Wallace gave them a hanging basket of purple petunias. Other gifts were a handcarved Alaskan totem pole and a hunting knife, beautifully made from steel used for planer blades.

There was also a money tree. With the money from the tree Bill and Elza bought a new rug for their living room. Bill had the pleasure of choosing the rug. He chose one that harmonized with the furnishings of the room. It was installed a few days after the reception.

The reception was held June 17 at St. Patrick's Hall on River St., Cave Junction, from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. The relatives and guests were served the anniversary cake, salads, finger foods, and punch. Many pictures were taken of the event.

The reception was a family reunion made happier by the friends who also came to help Bill and Elza celebrate. Some of the family members Bill and Elza had not seen since the men were small boys. They had lost track of the family until recently. Visiting with them was also a happy part of the reunion.

Relatives came from far and near to honor the Bosankos - Seattle, Wash.;

Bill Bosanko's Indian Story

"When I was a young man I worked for a freight company. We started out of Pike, Utah and went over the mountains. There were Indians all over that part of the country at that time. There was just a wagon road out of Pike and you might meet the Indians anywhere along the road.

"One day I stopped along the road to water my team and I didn't know there was anyone within a mile of me. And then I heard a voice. There was an Indian near me and he said 'Hello' to me. I looked over at him and he just stood there. I tell you, I was scared. I had never had any dealings with the Indians before. He had on a robe and feathers like a chief and that scared me worse.

He tried to talk to me but I couldn't understand his English very well. As near as I could, I did what he said. Then he told me that if I ever had any trouble with the Indians his camp was up the road and he pointed up to the hills and said, 'Tell me.'

"I kept on with the freighting and about two months later we camped near the same place and when we got up in the morning we were short one of our lead horses. I had remembered what the chief told me and went to find his camp, which was about two miles up in the mountains. So I found the chief and I told him I had lost one of my lead horses. Then I saw my horse and an Indian was standing beside him.

"The chief went over to the buck and said, 'You give that man his horse back.' And he said, 'It is my horse.' The chief answered, 'I said, you give that man his horse!' He didn't want to give the horse back but the chief decided he would make him give it back to me. So he hit him and the Indian just said, 'Ughh.' The chief had to hit him several times but he made the buck give me my horse back.

"Before I left the camp the chief told me again, 'Anytime you have trouble, if you can make it here to my camp, you come. This is my tent over here. You pull in and I'll tell you where to put your horses and what to feed them.' (The chief spoke pretty good English when you got used to hearing him.)

"Yes, that Cheyenne Indian chief really liked me."

"Maybe that Indian chief liked your blond curls," Eliza, his wife remarked.

"Well, maybe. I did have quite long curls that hung below my shoulders and they were as pretty as any lady's curls. And I took great care of my hair too. But one time I had trouble with my hair—my curls froze to the ground. When we were on the road freighting it wasn't like now a days. We just had to camp out and we slept under our wagons.

"We couldn't sleep in the wagons because they were loaded too heavy. Anyway, that night it was so cold, with snow on the ground, and when I tried to get up in the morning my curls were frozen to the ground and those curls had to be cut off before I could get up. I was lucky to have other freighters with me at that time. Two teamsters went together, or maybe three or four. That was for better protection.

"We used to stop where the Indian chief told us and we never had anything taken off the wagons of lost any more horses. We would see the Indians up the creeks and they would be all over riding their horses. They were just hunting and trying to make a living for their squaws and children.

"Every time I stopped at their camp I would give the chief a ham, or maybe two, or a sack of flour and sometimes a side of bacon. And the sides of bacon in those days were big, not the small pieces you buy today. The chief thought that ham especially was good and he was always ready for another. That was one reason nothing was ever stolen from our wagons. The company I worked for never did say anything against me giving the hams, bacon and flour to the chief because that was our protection.

"I was at that job about five years, so I went by his Indian camp many times and I learned a lot about the Indians.

"There was one buck that was kicked out of camp for a year. He could take none of his possessions with him, not even his clothing. He was disowned and ignored by all of the tribe and he could not go back into camp for any reason. He had killed one of the tribe and that was the punishment meted out by this Cheyenne chief that I knew. That was the sentence given by the chief and the chief's word was law.

"Going back and forth with our freight wagons we used to see this lone buck. He stayed near the road not too far from the Indian camp and no matter how cold it was he did not have anything to cover himself. He had dug a pit about six feet square and probably five feet deep and when anyone came along he would hide in his pit.

"The other freighters and I felt sorry for him and when we knew we would be near his hiding place we saved part of our lunch for him and threw it into the pit. Sometimes we saved a big chunk of meat. Then we knew he had something to eat. It seemed as if they wouldn't let him hunt either, so he had a hard time getting along. That year must have seemed a long time to that lonesome Indian, but that was Indian justice.

"That was many years ago and many things have happened in my life since that time but I will always remember the Cheyenne Indian chief who befriended me and the freighters who traveled with me."

Next week: Eliza Bosanko's Indian story.

Eliza Bosanko's Story

Eliza traces her family history back many generations. The Ewings left the land now called France and settled in Goulden Coup, or Golden Cup, in Scotland, and the Ewing clan lived there, generation after generation. They were a clan in their own right. During that time when a woman married into a clan the children inherited the rights of that clan, also the rights of the clan from which the mother came. They looked for protection from both clans.

There was a law of hospitality in Scotland that if a man was fleeing from his enemy and if he set foot on a man's land and claimed protection, the landowner had to protect him for three days. At the end of three days the land owner escorted him off his land and was no longer responsible for him.

After living in Scotland for so many years, the Ewing family migrated to Ireland to get peace from the religious conflicts of that time. One day a 13-year-old boy of the Ewing family, William George Ewing, went to the waterfront to watch the sailing ships as they came into port.

A ship docked and the boy was coaxed on board. They shut him in a cabin and set sail. It was five years before he escaped. He was 18 years old when they put into New York harbor. William jumped overboard and swam to shore. In time he made his way to a small settlement and later married a Miss German, whose father fought in the Revolutionary War.

William Ewing and his wife went west and settled in the Ohio country. Later he fought in the war of 1812. One of his officers was William Henry Harrison, who became president of the United States. William named one of his boys Harrison Ewing. For his services in the war, William was granted bounty land in Illinois, but he sold it because he wanted to stay in Ohio.

In the late 1700s two families migrated to Canada from England, the Reeves and the Watsons, but they did not become acquainted while living in Canada. One of the boys, Joseph Watson, ran away from home at the age of 13, after his parents died, and became a cabin boy on a sailing vessel on the Great Lakes. After several years on the vessel he went to Illinois and became a United States citizen.

The Reeves family also came to Illinois and Joseph Watson met and married Amy Reeves, the little girl who had gone to school in a small log cabin. The only school book was the Bible, and she learned to read and spell from that one book. At the time they were married, Amy was 16 and Joseph was 25. They had 12 children. In 1872 the family went to Arkansas where he took up a homestead. Their oldest child, Eliza Ann Watson met and married Thomas J. Ewing there.

Joseph Watson came west with one of his sons and took up a homestead in Oregon. He chose land in South Beach, which is now a park near Newport, but at that time there were only a few settlers in that area and there were still many Indians.

After Joseph had his homestead he went back to coax his wife to come to Oregon. Amy and all of the family came with Joseph on his return trip to Oregon and they lived in South Beach. They had seven children and some of them were probably born in Oregon. One of their children was Eva Eliza and she told her children about playing with the Indian children when she was a small child. She also told them that the Indians were good to the white settlers and shared with them.

At a certain time of the year the squaws went to gather the herbs growing in the forests. They used them for food and medicine. When they knew what time they were going they would send word to the women of the camp where the white families were, and they would go with the Indian women to gather the herbs.

They never got as many herbs as the Indians did as they didn't want to outdo their Indian friends. The children went too and the older ones helped but the little children could play. Eva Eliza learned to get the same herbs as the Indians and learned what each herb was used for and how to cook them.

Some time later, when Eva Eliza Hand had seven children, she used to tell them to go gather herbs in the forest so they could have some supper, for there were times when it was hard to get enough food for her family. And all of them enjoyed gathering the herbs that were good to eat.

At one time of the year smelt came up the creeks from the ocean. The young Indian men went out and brought in the fish and made them come up the creek with their paddles. Everybody dipped the fish, both the Indians and the whites, and all of the fish went into one pile on the bank. At the end of each day each family received an allotment of those fish according to how many children there were in the family.

One year there was one man and his wife who had no children and they put theirs over on one side and were not willing to share because there were only two of them and they would only get two allotments.

the Indian women spanned the creek by standing side by side and holding wide their skirts and they flapped the water with their skirts and scared the fish so the fish would not come up the creek. That is the way they stopped them because they would not share. It was Indian justice. They had their own culture and strict rules of conduct.

Eva Eliza Hand was the mother of Eliza Ernestine Bosanko, who lives on Holton Creek Road, Kerby with her husband William (Bill) Bosanko. Her grandmother was Eliza Ann Ewing and her great grandmother Amy Watson. The mother, grandmother and great grandmother lived in the little house on the homestead at South Beach and Eliza Bosanko also lived there when she was small. She remembers the story of her great grandmother and the Indian boy.

Great grandmother Amy Watson was a cripple. She could not use one arm and one leg, but she learned to do fancy work and liked to do cross stitching. Every day that the weather was nice she sat out in a chair and embroidered. She always sat in the same place.

At a certain time of the day small Indian boys went one way along the beach but never came back that way. One day an Indian boy spied the silver thimble Amy was using, for it was sparkling in the sun. He had a piece of black abalone shell that he prized. One day he walked up to Amy smiling and dropped his shell in her lap, then turned and ran away. He thought she would give him the silver thimble but she needed her thimble and did not want to give it away.

But the next day she had a little pen knife in her hand that she thought he would like. Now if she didn't give him what he wanted he could come and get what he had given her—that is Indian giving—so she had the knife to give him and the thimble was in her pocket.

She handed the knife to him and kept the shell and the next day and for a number of days she held it out to him and he showed her the knife and then went on with the other boys and that was all she saw of him that day.

And then Amy became very sick but before she passed away she asked her oldest daughter, Eliza Ann, who was Eliza Bosanko's grandmother, to sit as she had day after day, and she promised she would. The young Indian boy walked part way up to her and took one look at her and threw the little knife down at her feet as hard as he could. And as far as they knew he never came back to that beach again. That lady was not the one he knew; his friend had died.

Eliza's brothers Morris and Clarence are deceased but Eliza and her sisters Berniece, Orma and Verda, get together they like to recount the events of their childhood and remember the Indian stories their mother told them.

Ranitidine: Pretreatment with ranitidine (150 mg twice daily for 4 days) did not alter the pharmacokinetics of either single oral or intravenous doses of rosiglitazone in healthy volunteers. These results suggest that the absorption of oral rosiglitazone is not altered in conditions accompanied by increases in gastrointestinal pH.

Carcinogenesis, Mutagenesis, Impairment of Fertility

Carcinogenesis: A 2-year carcinogenicity study was conducted in Charles River CD-1 mice at doses of 0.4, 1.5, and 6 mg/kg/day in the diet (highest dose equivalent to approximately 12 times human AUC at the maximum recommended human daily dose). Sprague-Dawley rats were dosed for 2 years by oral gavage at doses of 0.05, 0.3, and 2 mg/kg/day (highest dose equivalent to approximately 10 and 20 times human AUC at the maximum recommended human daily dose for male and female rats, respectively).

Rosiglitazone was not carcinogenic in the mouse. There was an increase in incidence of adipose hyperplasia in the mouse at doses ≥ 1.5 mg/kg/day (approximately 2 times human AUC at the maximum recommended human daily dose). In rats, there was a significant increase in the incidence of benign adipose tissue tumors (lipomas) at doses ≥ 0.3 mg/kg/day (approximately 2 times human AUC at the maximum recommended human daily dose). These proliferative changes in both species are considered due to the persistent pharmacological overstimulation of adipose tissue.

Mutagenesis: Rosiglitazone was not mutagenic or clastogenic in the in vitro bacterial assays for gene mutation, the in vitro chromosome aberration test in human lymphocytes, the in vivo mouse micronucleus test, and the in vivo/in vitro rat UDS assay. There was a small (about 2-fold) increase in mutation in the in vitro mouse lymphoma assay in the presence of metabolic activation.

Impairment of Fertility: Rosiglitazone had no effects on mating or fertility of male rats given up to 40 mg/kg/day (approximately 116 times human AUC at the maximum recommended human daily dose). Rosiglitazone altered estrous cyclicity (2 mg/kg/day) and reduced fertility (40 mg/kg/day) of female rats in association with lower plasma levels of progesterone and estradiol (approximately 20 and 200 times human AUC at the maximum recommended human daily dose, respectively). No such effects were noted at 0.2 mg/kg/day (approximately 3 times human AUC at the maximum recommended human daily dose). In monkeys, rosiglitazone (0.6 and 4.6 mg/kg/day; approximately 3 and 15 times human AUC at the maximum recommended human daily dose, respectively) diminished the follicular phase rise in serum estradiol with consequential reduction in the luteinizing hormone surge, lower luteal phase progesterone levels, and amenorrhea. The mechanism for these effects appears to be direct inhibition of ovarian steroidogenesis.

Animal Toxicology

Heart weights were increased in mice (3 mg/kg/day), rats (5 mg/kg/day), and dogs (2 mg/kg/day) with rosiglitazone treatments (approximately 5, 22, and 2 times human AUC at the maximum recommended human daily dose, respectively). Morphometric measurement indicated that there was hypertrophy in cardiac ventricular tissues, which may be due to increased heart work as a result of plasma volume expansion.

Pregnancy

Pregnancy Category C

There was no effect on implantation or the embryo with rosiglitazone treatment during early pregnancy in rats, but treatment during mid-late gestation was associated with fetal death and growth retardation in both rats and rabbits. Teratogenicity was not observed at doses up to 3 mg/kg in rats and 100 mg/kg in rabbits (approximately 20 and 75 times human AUC at the maximum recommended human daily dose, respectively). Rosiglitazone caused placental pathology in rats (3 mg/kg/day). Treatment of rats during gestation through lactation reduced litter size, neonatal viability, and postnatal growth, with growth retardation reversible after puberty. For effects on the placenta, embryo/fetus, and offspring, the no-effect dose was 0.2 mg/kg/day in rats and 15 mg/kg/day in rabbits. These no-effect levels are approximately 4 times human AUC at the maximum recommended human daily dose.

There are no adequate and well-controlled studies in pregnant women. Avandia (rosiglitazone maleate) should not be used during pregnancy unless the potential benefit justifies the potential risk to the fetus.

Because current information strongly suggests that abnormal blood glucose levels during pregnancy are associated with a higher incidence of congenital anomalies as well as increased neonatal morbidity and mortality, most experts recommend that insulin monotherapy be used during pregnancy to maintain blood glucose levels as close to normal as possible.

Labor and Delivery

The effect of rosiglitazone on labor and delivery in humans is not known.

Nursing Mothers

Drug-related material was detected in milk from lactating rats. It is not known whether Avandia is excreted in human milk. Because many drugs are excreted in human milk, Avandia should not be administered to a nursing woman.

ADVERSE REACTIONS

In clinical trials, approximately 4600 patients with type 2 diabetes have been treated with Avandia; 3300 patients were treated for 6 months or longer and 2000 patients were treated for 12 months or longer.

Trials of Avandia as Monotherapy and in Combination with Other Hypoglycemic Agents

The incidence and types of adverse events reported in clinical trials of Avandia as monotherapy are shown in Table 7.

There were a small number of patients treated with Avandia who had adverse events of anemia and edema. Overall, these events were generally mild to moderate in severity and usually did not require discontinuation of treatment with Avandia (rosiglitazone maleate).

In double-blind studies, anemia was reported in 1.9% of patients receiving Avandia compared to 0.7% on placebo, 0.6% on sulfonylureas and 2.2% on metformin. Edema was reported in 4.8% of patients receiving Avandia compared to 1.3% on placebo, 1.0% on sulfonylureas, and 2.2% on metformin. Overall, the types of adverse experiences reported when Avandia was used in combination with a sulfonylurea or metformin were similar to those during monotherapy with Avandia. Reports of anemia (71%) were greater in patients treated with a combination of Avandia and metformin compared to monotherapy with Avandia or in combination with a sulfonylurea.

Lower pre-treatment hemoglobin/hematocrit levels in patients enrolled in the metformin combination clinical trials may have contributed to the higher reporting rate of anemia in these studies (see ADVERSE REACTIONS, Laboratory Abnormalities, Hematologic).

In 26-week double-blind studies, edema was reported with higher frequency in the Avandia plus insulin combination trials (insulin, 5.4%; and Avandia in combination with insulin, 14.7%). Reports of new onset or exacerbation of congestive heart failure occurred at rates of 1% for insulin alone, and 2% (4 mg) and 3% (8 mg) for insulin in combination with Avandia (see WARNINGS, Cardiac Failure and Other Cardiac Effects).

In postmarketing experience with Avandia, adverse events potentially related to volume expansion (e.g., congestive heart failure, pulmonary edema, and pleural effusions) have been reported.

Laboratory Abnormalities

Hematologic: Decreases in mean hemoglobin and hematocrit occurred in a dose-related fashion in patients treated with Avandia (mean decreases in individual studies up to 1.0 g/dL hemoglobin and up to 3.3% hematocrit). The time course and magnitude of decreases were similar in patients treated with a combination of Avandia and other hypoglycemic agents or Avandia monotherapy. Pre-treatment levels of hemoglobin and hematocrit were lower in patients in metformin combination studies and may have contributed to the higher reporting rate of anemia. White blood cell counts also decreased slightly in patients treated with Avandia. Decreases in hematologic parameters may be related to increased plasma volume observed with treatment with Avandia.

Lipids: Changes in serum lipids have been observed following treatment with Avandia (see CLINICAL STUDIES).

Serum Transaminase Levels: In clinical studies in 4598 patients treated with Avandia (rosiglitazone maleate) encompassing approximately 3600 patient years of exposure, there was no evidence of drug-induced hepatotoxicity or elevated ALT levels.

In controlled trials, 0.2% of patients treated with Avandia had reversible elevations in ALT $>3\times$ the upper limit of normal compared to 0.2% on placebo and 0.5% on active comparators. Hyperbilirubinemia was found in 0.3% of patients treated with Avandia compared with 0.9% treated with placebo and 1% in patients treated with active comparators.

In the clinical program including long-term, open-label experience, the rate per 100 patient years exposure of ALT increase to $>3\times$ the upper limit of normal was 0.35 for patients treated with Avandia, 0.59 for placebo-treated patients, and 0.78 for patients treated with active comparator agents.

In pre-approval clinical trials, there were no cases of idiosyncratic drug reactions leading to hepatic failure. In postmarketing experience with Avandia (rosiglitazone maleate), reports of hepatic enzyme elevations three or more times the upper limit of normal and hepatitis have been received (see PRECAUTIONS, Hepatic Effects).

DOSAGE AND ADMINISTRATION

The management of antidiabetic therapy should be individualized. Avandia may be administered either at a starting dose of 4 mg as a single daily dose or divided and administered in the morning and evening. For patients who respond inadequately following 8 to 12 weeks of treatment, as determined by reduction in FPG, the dose may be increased to 8 mg daily as indicated below. Reductions in glycemic parameters by dose and regimen are described under CLINICAL STUDIES. Avandia may be taken with or without food.

Monotherapy

The usual starting dose of Avandia is 4 mg administered either as a single dose once daily or in divided doses twice daily. In clinical trials, the 4 mg twice daily regimen resulted in the greatest reduction in FPG and HbA1c.

Combination Therapy with a Sulfonylurea or Metformin

When Avandia is added to existing therapy, the current dose of sulfonylurea or metformin can be continued upon initiation of Avandia therapy.

Sulfonylureas

When used in combination with sulfonylureas, the recommended dose of Avandia is 4 mg administered as either a single dose once daily or in divided doses twice daily. If patients report hypoglycemia, the dose of the sulfonylurea should be decreased.

Metformin

The usual starting dose of Avandia in combination with metformin is 4 mg administered as either a single dose once daily or in divided doses twice daily. It is unlikely that the dose of metformin will require adjustment due to hypoglycemia during combination therapy with Avandia.

Maximum Recommended Dose:

The dose of Avandia should not exceed 8 mg daily, as a single dose or divided twice daily. The 8 mg daily dose has been shown to be safe and effective in clinical studies as monotherapy and in combination with metformin. Doses of Avandia greater than 4 mg daily in combination with a sulfonylurea have not been studied in adequate and well-controlled clinical trials.

Avandia may be taken with or without food.

No dosage adjustments are required for the elderly.

No dosage adjustment is necessary when Avandia is used as monotherapy in patients with renal impairment. Since metformin is contraindicated in such patients, concomitant administration of metformin and Avandia is also contraindicated in patients with renal impairment.

Therapy with Avandia should not be initiated if the patient exhibits clinical evidence of active liver disease or increased serum transaminase levels (ALT $\geq 2.5\times$ upper limit of normal at start of therapy) (see PRECAUTIONS, Hepatic Effects and CLINICAL PHARMACOLOGY, Hepatic Impairment). Liver enzyme monitoring is recommended in all patients prior to initiation of therapy with Avandia and periodically thereafter (see PRECAUTIONS, Hepatic Effects).

There are no data on the use of Avandia in patients under 18 years of age; therefore, use of Avandia in pediatric patients is not recommended.

OVERDOSAGE

Limited data are available with regard to overdosage in humans. In clinical studies in volunteers, Avandia (rosiglitazone maleate) has been administered at single oral doses of up to 20 mg and was well-tolerated. In the event of an overdose, appropriate supportive treatment should be initiated as dictated by the patient's clinical status.

Boys playing with lighters set fatal fire

by Kyle R. Wood

P8 □ Seattle Times Snohomish County bureau

MARYSVILLE - The fire that killed a mother and her three children here last weekend was caused by two young boys playing with butane lighters, authorities said yesterday.

Snohomish County Sheriff's spokeswoman Jan Jorgensen said the investigation took unusually long because investigators wanted to make certain they had pinpointed the cause of the fire. She said they never had any reason to believe the fire was suspicious and never investigated it as a criminal matter.

"This is just a tragic, accidental death," she said yesterday.

The children's father, Paul Bosanko, was separated from their mother. Paul Bosanko could not be reached for comment, but his uncle, Howard Bosanko, said he is suffering from tremendous grief.

"We know it's going to take some time. I know his life is in turmoil over this," Howard Bosanko said. "Paul loved his family very much."

As best as investigators can determine, this is what happened in the house that night:

Verona Bosanko, 34, had put her two sons, Marshall and Reid, both 3, to bed sometime before 9 p.m. The two slept in the mother's bedroom in the back of the house.

Sometime after 9 p.m., the boys got up and began playing with butane lighters in the front room, just a few feet from where their 1-year-old sister, Deanna, was sleeping in her crib. The two lighters, normally kept in the kitchen, were used to light the family's wood-pellet stove and barbecue. Investigators found the charred remains of the lighters during their probe of the houses.

After accidentally starting the fire, the boys apparently became frightened and ran back into their mother's bedroom, where she was sleeping.

The three were overcome by smoke before they were able to escape the house. Thick black smoke was rolling out of the house when firefighters arrived at the scene by 10 p.m., witnesses said.

The fire probably broke out between 9 and 9:30 p.m., Jorgensen said, and smoldered for a bit before engulfing the front room. Fire damage was limited to the front room, dining room and kitchen area, she said, while the rest of the one-story house sustained smoke damage.

It took 10 to 15 minutes to douse the flames, firefighters said. One smoke detector in the house was blaring when firefighters arrived. The other was destroyed in the flames.

Reid Bosanko died at a nearby hospital shortly after the fire. Deanna was declared dead at the scene. Marshall Bosanko was taken to Children's Hospital & Medical Center in Seattle, where he died two days later - a day after his third birthday - in his father's arms, Howard Bosanko said.

His mother died later that same day at Virginia Mason Medical Center in Seattle, according to Howard Bosanko. She had been in a coma since her arrival at the hospital.

A memorial service for Verona Bosanko and her three children is scheduled for noon today at Our Lady of Perpetual Help, 2619 Cedar St., in Everett.

clues to what touched off a fire that killed a mother and her three children in Marysville Saturday. So far, investigators said they have more questions than answers in the blaze that claimed the lives of Verona Bosanko, 34, and her three young children, Marshall, 3, Reid, 2, and Deanna, 1.

Investigators said they:

- Cannot pinpoint the cause of the fire.

- Don't know why blaring smoke detectors failed to alert the family when the fire broke out about 9:30 p.m.

- Are not ready to declare the deaths accidental.

Investigators stopped short of calling the fire suspicious. Until they have determined a cause, they said any discussion of why the fire occurred is premature.

They are looking into the troubled 11-year marriage between Verona and Paul Bosanko, said Jan Jorgensen, spokeswoman for the Snohomish County Sheriff's Office.

Four days before the fire, Verona Bosanko obtained a temporary court order limiting Paul Bosanko's access to the children. She accused him in court records of abuse, saying he recently "grabbed me by the hair and threw me down on the floor."

Verona Bosanko asked that her husband complete an anger management evaluation and program before being allowed unsupervised time with the children, according to court records.

Paul Bosanko, who was staying with relatives in Seattle, did not return repeated phone calls.

On Aug. 8, Verona Bosanko filed for separate maintenance in Snohomish County Superior Court, claiming Paul Bosanko had been verbally and, to a lesser extent, physically abusive, court records show.

"Recently the physical abuse has gotten to the point where I can no longer put up with it," Verona Bosanko said in court records. "My husband has a violent temper and although he has never been physically violent with the children, they are afraid of him because of his verbal abuse."

Paul Bosanko was suspended for a week from his $1,000-a-week job as an air conditioning mechanic for being verbally abusive to fellow workers and to a supplier, court records show.

Verona Peterson graduated from Marysville Pilchuck High School in 1980, and she and Paul Bosanko were married Dec. 21, 1985, in Everett, court records show.

Before any of the children were born, the couple separated on Sept. 14, 1988, and filed a joint petition to dissolve their marriage the following month, saying "the marriage of the parties is irretrievably broken."

But before a decree was issued, the petition was withdrawn, the case dismissed and the marriage resumed.

Jorgensen declined comment on the court records yesterday, although she said investigators were aware of them.

"We have not determined the cause of the fire. We don't know what we are looking at. We just haven't been able to find what caused it, and we're hoping to do that in a few days.

"Once we have a cause of the fire, then we'll go from there," she said.

Nothing found in the house clearly indicates how the fire started, Jorgensen said.

"Normally, there would be some obvious cause," she said. "They have eliminated an electrical cause of the fire. And while there was a pellet-fueled stove in the living room area where the fire is believed to have started, there is no indication that it was on."

She said no indications of accelerant or fuel to feed a fire were found.

"The fire was a tragedy, but there is no indication that the fire was set," Jorgensen said.

Deanna, the infant, was in the front room, where the fire is believed to have started, Jorgensen said.

"She was in a playpen because they were renovating the bedroom and she had been sleeping in the front room for the past several nights," she said.

Even after autopsies, the Snohomish County Medical Examiner's Office has been unable to determine the cause of Deanna's death, although the deaths of her brothers and mother have been linked to smoke inhalation.

Snohomish County Medical Examiner Dr. Eric Kiesel also has not determined the manner of death of all four victims - whether it was an accident or something else.

Also puzzling to investigators is why the smoke detectors failed to rouse the family in time to flee the one-story frame home in the 9100 block of 48th Drive Northeast in Marysville.

Firefighters from the Marysville Fire District who put out the fire and pulled the four occupants from the house said smoke detectors were screaming a loud warning when they arrived about 9:30 p.m. Saturday. And the detectors continued to function during tests long after the fire was put out, Jorgensen said.

"The bedrooms and the rest of the house suffered a great deal of smoke damage," Jorgensen said.

"I suppose some people could sleep through a smoke alarm."

Verona Bosanko died Monday at Virginia Mason Medical Center in Seattle, where she had been in a coma since the fire.

Dan Christman, an investigator at the Snohomish County Medical Examiner's Office, said an autopsy determined she died of a lack of oxygen to the brain as a result of smoke inhalation.

Marshall, who would have been 4 in November, died a few hours earlier at Seattle's Children's Hospital and Medical Center of similar causes, an autopsy showed.

Reid died of smoke inhalation and was dead at the fire. He died the day before his third birthday.

Snohomish County Deputy Fire Marshal Bruce Pulver declined to discuss his investigation into the cause of the fire and referred all inquiries to Jorgensen.

Jorgensen said Detective Shawn Stich of the sheriff's Major Crimes Unit was working with the fire marshal's office and medical examiner investigators.

Funeral services for Verona Bosanko and the three children will be held at noon Saturday in Our Lady of Perpetual Help Catholic Church, 2617 Cedar St., Everett.

Notes for: Katherine Mahala BOSANKO

Birth Certificate: Katherine Mahala Bosanko December 10, 1903

Father was a miner and mined all over Michigan, then eventually moved to Butte, Montana. Family states that her father Thomas was a drinker and drank away most of his earnings from the mines. The mother, who was ill and distraught about money committed suicide when Katherine was about four years old. After her death, the father moved the family to Utah. He and the boys presumably worked in the mines. The older daughters married and the young child.

Adopted by LDS Mormon family on August 7, 1909 at age of 6, to James E. Johnson Family. She was blessed at the LDS Church on September 5, 1909, in Mapleton Ward, in Utah – one month after the adoption. She was baptized into the LDS faith on June 23, 1912. It states on the baptism record that the parents are James E. Johnson and Lucinda J. Keith (I presume Keith is Mrs. Johnson's maiden name). Katherine attended Mapleton Public Schools.

There are many unidentified photos, but the earliest is of 3 women, and Helen is in the middle. I think the two on the sides are her sisters (Mary Jane and Edith), but I am unsure. They are in fur coats, which would have been about right for the time period. They would have been in Utah, where the pictures were taken. Those might not have been their clothing, although one of the sisters had a lot of mining, due to Katherine's brother being killed in the mines in American Fork, Utah at a young age. It's my understanding that the boys went to work in the mines in Utah, the girls married young, and Katherine was adopted into an LDS Mormon Family. During that time period, she was known as Katherine, Katharine, Catherine, Catharine, and Katy.

At some point, before 1940, she changed her name to Helen, and she got her hairdresser license and passed the beauty art test for the examination for hairdressers, while she still lived in Utah. At that time, her address is listed as 15 Fairmont Apts, c/o Margaret Alley, Salt Lake City, Utah

Helen was married sometime about 1940 or before to a Mr. Carl Miles, probably in Utah. No children were born from this union.

Sometime before 1943 she was known as "Helen T. Burns". (look for a marriage)

Helen T. Burns married Samuel Jackson Ganger on 12 November, 1943, in Multnomah, Oregon. No children were born from this union.

Sometime before March 10, 1944, she moved to 100 Golden Gate Avenue in San Francisco.

Someone named Mrs. J. U. Geesy in Salt Lake wrote her between 1945-1946 to her Helen in care of the Officer's Club in the Mountain Home, Idaho Army Air Base and at 26 Del Centro, in Benecia, California. On 16th of January in 1952, Mr. Samuel J. Ganger, her husband died (he having been born on 5 July 1988 in Oregon). His parents were George Ganger and mother was Alpha Ritchie Ganger. He was buried at the East Lawn Cemetery, in the Veterans Section, No #19, Row 5. In October of 1952, Helen lived at 3448 – 40th Street in Sacramento, California and was written to by a Margaret who lived back in Utah. The postcard was significant enough that it was amongst her only belongings in a very small box. In 1957, Helen begins to work for the County of Sacramento Probation Department, and remains there ten years.

On June 17th, 1958, there is an interesting document that Helen received some money on account of a divorce of Grass vs. Grass, signed by Fred A. Grass.

Interestingly enough, on September 26th, 1959 a year later, she married Frederick Alfred Grass and her maiden name is listed as Helen Thornton Ganger. No children were born of this union.

By 1964, she is photographed with her estranged brother, William John Bosanko and his wife Eliza Ernestine Hand Bosanko, and the picture is dated May 1964, where her name is listed as Helen Simpson. From this we learn that she married Charles Poster Simpson, prior to May 1964. No children were born from this union either.

On 7 March 1967, Helen received her ten year certificate for working for the County of Sacramento Probation Department, placing her beginning with the department in 1957. Her Social Security Number was #548-28-2637. Her then husband, Charles Poster Simpson, died on 11 August 1973, while living at 2801 Taft Street, in Sacramento, California. He has lived there at least ten years the death certificate states.

A photo is enclosed of Helen with her husband Chuck. It appears she liked dogs! Other pictures are with the family records as well, which included visits by her brother William John Bosanko. In spite of these several visits, Helen denied ever having siblings or any children or any living family, and close neighbors said she was very alone, but was kind to the neighbors' daughters. Helen died as "Helen Thornton Simpson on 3 April 1981 at home at 2801 Taft Street in Sacramento due to coronary atherosclerosis, edema and pulmonary congestion and obesity. She is buried at the Sunset Lawn Cemetery at 4701 Marysville Blvd. in Sacramento, California. Helen assigned her neighbor and friend to be the executrix of her will and bequeathed a small money to the neighbor's daughters, and the house and her personal effects to her neighbor who had been so kind to her for years. Helen was known as a helpful and loving neighbor who was always willing to lend a listening ear and a kind word.

Hi Fayth,

I don't know much about Charles P. Simpson except from stories I heard as a child. He was a manager of a bus line possibly Greyhound in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma and Oakland, California. He drank quite a bit and that led to his death. He was divorced from Ruth Alexander in the 1950's some time and I believed he remarried residing in Sacramento, CA. I thought his grave was in Sacramento as well. He might have been married before Ruth Alexander. He had at least one child with a woman before Ruth. I don't know the names of either woman before or after Ruth, but I could contact other family members who might if you're interested. Charles seemingly did not leave a positive legacy, and before I stir up bad memories with them do you mind telling me your connection?

Scott

I am interested in your Charles P. Simpson, b 1907 and married to Ruth Ann Alexander. I believe this Charles P. Simpson was married to a woman who used several names. One being Helen Thorton Simpson, also interested in any more information you might have on him.
